First Eagle Amundi International Fund

Global markets were on an upward climb for much of the fiscal year and then in an abrupt turnaround from December's largely positive returns, January 2022 saw a sharp decline in global risk assets as both sovereign bond yields and geopolitical risks moved higher. For the 12 months ending February 28, 2022, the MSCI World Index registered a return of 10.7%. The fiscal year was marked by multiple phases in which style leadership fluctuated and bond yields shifted direction - driven in large part by investor sentiment across a range of risk factors, including high inflation readings, changes in central bank rhetoric, market economic and geopolitical concerns, and the emergence of new Covid-19 variants. While the reflation trade that began in the fourth quarter of 2020 (indicated by the outperformance of value stocks relative to other stocks) persisted through much of the first half of 2021, growth returned to the forefront for most of the second half of the year before value regained leadership in December and has held its position to-date. Since the beginning of December (through end of Feb 2022), the World Value Index returned 3.5% while the MSCI World Growth Index returned -10.7%. At First Eagle, above all, a focus on strong absolute-returns & a benchmark-agnostic orientation have remained critical elements in our rigorous stock selection process and in our hunt for companies with quality business models that we believe will persist and excel over time, throughout various market dynamics.

Rising inflation and uncertainty surrounding the related tightening of fiscal and monetary policy remained a top concern for most investors throughout the year. The massive fiscal spending that buoyed economies worldwide through the worst of the pandemic's disruptions has slowly faded from view and a string of elevated inflation prints—well above target in most G20 nations and at multi-decade highs in the US—appears to have forced the hands of monetary policymakers. After months of contending that price pressures were "transitory" in nature and would ease of their own accord, the Federal Reserve made a hawkish pivot towards the end of 2021. At its early November meeting, the central bank introduced a plan to taper its asset purchases at a rate that would sunset the program by June 2022; and in mid-December, the end date was brought forward to March. A corresponding escalation of concern was found in the Fed's quarterly rate forecast, as the December dot plot called for three federal funds rate hikes during the year of 2022 after September's report found no consensus for any. Meanwhile, come February, inflation rose once again and reached a rate so high that it has not been seen in 40 years.

As existing concerns of rising inflation continued to grow, heightened volatility continued from the start of 2022 and has risen since, with the VIX up 20% in February as the Russia-Ukraine crisis erupted into the world landscape (Source: Bloomberg, as of end of February 2022). The price of gold, and its related securities, increased as many investors considered the heightened level of risks and fled to gold, given its reputation as a "safe haven" asset.

During this period, the Sub-Fund registered strong absolute returns of 7.20% (USD, AUC share class) for the 12 months ending February 28, 2022. Equities and goldrelated securities were the primary contributors to the fiscal year's positive absolute returns. From an equity sector perspective, Financials, Energy and Health Care contributed the most to absolute performance while exposure to Industrials and Communication Services detracted the most from performance during the period. Meanwhile, exposure to Consumer Discretionary made the least positive contribution. The Sub-Fund's top performing stocks for the fiscal year included Exxon Mobil, Imperial Oil, Oracle, Richemont, and Schlumberger. The largest detractors included FANUC, Alibaba, IPG Photonics, Meta Platforms, and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing.

We established five new equity holdings during the fiscal year. The team built new positions in two dominant technology companies, including the Chinese multinational technology company Alibaba and the Dutch multinational global internet group and technology investor Prosus. Also, during this time, positions in the British multinational arms, security, and aerospace company BAE Systems and in the Brazilian multinational conglomerate holding company Itaúsa were initiated. Most recently, in February 2022, we added the Europe-based manufacturer of elevators and escalators, Schindler Holding.

We eliminated our holdings in nine equities. Shares of the US-based bank holding company Truist, the US-based travel technology company Booking Holdings, the UK-based beverages company Diageo, the South Korea-based automobile manufacturer Kia and the German-based chemical company Linde, reached our estimate of the companies' intrinsic value. There was a change to our investment case in France-based distributor of electrical, lighting, and industrial products Rexel and Brazil-based credit and debit card operator Cielo. Jardine Strategic was acquired by a related company whose stock we continue to hold. We sold KT&G in accordance with Amundi's exclusion policy relating to tobacco stocks.

During the fiscal year, the allocation to gold-related securities in the First Eagle Amundi funds reached elevated levels; making up nearly 16% of the portfolio by the end of February 2022. While the portfolios have a gold allocation to serve as a potential hedge against extreme markets and as a longer-term store of value, gold-related securities made a strong contribution to positive performance given the rise in the price of the underlying commodity and contributed 169 bps to absolute performance for the First Eagle Amundi International Fund during the fiscal year.

In our view, the outbreak of armed hostilities between Ukraine and Russia has added another complication to markets already processing multi-decade-high inflation levels and central bank tightening. Portfolios managed by the Global Value team have 0.0% direct exposure to companies based in Russia or Ukraine, and we believe the bottom-up resilience built into our portfolios should help mitigate the impacts of what is likely to remain a highly uncertain environment. Robust inflation and persistent rising rates have the potential to push the market further into a more challenged returns environment relative to the recent past. Historically, the First Eagle Amundi funds have tended to register strong results and capital protection amidst heighted inflation and rising interest rates environments. In our view, the First Eagle Amundi funds, with their selective approach to identifying stocks, should continue to be well positioned to navigate the markets, given the heightened level of uncertainty regarding the overall state of the world and the economy at large, including potential shifts in circumstances that had aided in supporting an outperformance of the growth style, and rise in alpha opportunities.

The Sub-Fund registered strong absolute returns of 7.32% (USD, AUC share class) for the 12 months ending February 28, 2022. Equities and gold-related securities contributed to positive absolute returns during the fiscal year, while bonds were a headwind. From an equity sector perspective, Energy, Financials and Health Care contributed the most to absolute performance while Communication Services was the sole detractor sector from positive performance during the period. Meanwhile, exposure to Utilities made the least positive contribution to returns during the fiscal year ending February 28, 2022. The Sub-Fund's top performing stocks for the fiscal year included Exxon Mobil, Nestle, Richemont, Imperial Oil, and Power Corporation of Canada. The largest detractors included Fuchs Petrolub, Danone, Secom, Great Eagle, and Henkel.

The team established eight new equity holdings during the fiscal year. We built new positions in the American multinational investment company Bank of America, the Mexican beverages company Coca Cola FEMSA, the American telecommunications conglomerate Comcast, the American electricity holding company IDACORP, the American lawn, garden and pest control company Scotts Miracle-Gro, the British multinational arms, security, and aerospace company BAE Systems and in the Brazilian multinational conglomerate holding company Itaúsa. Most recently, in February 2022, we added a Europe-based manufacturer of elevators and escalators.

We eliminated our positions in fifteen equities. Shares of the US-based bank holding company Truist, the US-based manufacturer and distributor of diesel and alternative fuel engines and generators Cummins, the UK-based beverages company Diageo, and the Ireland-based chemical company Linde reached our estimate of the companies' intrinsic value. The team eliminated the position in Zardoya Otis because shares in the name were trading at levels that represented a premium to a recently made tender offer. There was a change to our investment case in the Brazil-based credit and debit card operator Cielo. We sold KT&G and British American Tobacco Malaysia in accordance with Amundi's exclusion policy relating to tobacco stocks. We also exited out of a few positions due to a change in dividend yield that led them to no longer fit within the desired parameters of the Fund; this included American Express, Legrand, PPG, Microsoft, Yokogawa Electric and Great Portland Estates.

Fixed income generally and leveraged credit specifically has been caught in a vise of persistent and increasing inflation expectations combined with rapidly evolving expectations of more restrictive monetary policy. This has led to expectations for more aggressive rate hikes as well as earlier and deeper tapering expectations. The vise tightened considerably following the much anticipated but underappreciated Russian invasion of Ukraine in late February. Many were surprised by the scale of the operation, and markets reflected that surprise by aggressively repricing risky assets and commodities of all types. Russia and Ukraine are responsible for a significant amount of energy and wheat production respectively – causing a higher recalibration of inflation expectations and further complicating the objectives of global central banks to restrain inflation while guiding the global economy to a soft landing.

The Fed "put" has been noted and relied upon on numerous occasions over the past thirty-five years during periods of systemic stress and tightening financial conditions. The paucity of inflation pressure allowed global monetary authorities the freedom to proactively suppress periods of extreme asset price volatility from infecting the general economy. However, as the Federal Reserve embarks on the path toward policy normalization, the "put" may be much further out of the money due to persistently high inflation. As a result, the potential for elevated volatility has increased as investors struggle to forecast the terminal federal funds rate.

Within the portfolio, we remain biased towards higher quality, shorter and more liquid paper in this unstable environment. Companies along the credit spectrum entered the pandemic with generationally high leverage and will therefore have to reduce leverage by either applying cash flow for debt repayment or involuntarily-through in-court or out of court restructuring. Accommodative Fed policy, open capital markets and significant fiscal stimulus have provided an unprecedented tailwind for leveraged credit and risky assets in general. The markets are potentially witnessing the beginning of the inversion of these benign financial conditions. We continue to focus on minimizing downside risk and look to countercyclically allocate capital as risk aversion potentially grows and spreads widen accordingly.

During the fiscal year we eliminated 32 holdings because of changes to the ESG rating. These included Alleghany, American Express, Booking Holdings, Brown & Brown, C.H. 2 PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING CONVENTIONS

PRESENTATION OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The financial statements of the SICAV are presented in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to undertakings for collective investment in transferable securities and generally accepted accounting principles. The financial statements reflect the Net Asset Values ("NAV") as calculated on the last business day of the year based on latest available market prices of the investments.

COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE SICAV

The combined statement of net assets and combined statement of operations and changes in net assets are expressed in USD and correspond to the total of the statements of net assets and statements of operations and changes in net assets of the individual Sub-Funds, converted in USD at the exchange rates applicable at period-end.

VALUATION OF INVESTMENT IN SECURITIES

The value of any cash on hand or on deposit bills and demand notes and accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, cash dividends, interest declared or accrued and not yet received, all of which are deemed to be the full amount thereof, unless in any case the same is unlikely to be paid or received in full, in which case the value thereof is arrived at after making such discount as may be considered appropriate in such case to reflect the true value thereof.

Securities listed on a recognized stock exchange or dealt on any other Regulated Market that operates regularly, is recognized and is open to the public, are valued at their last available closing prices, or, in the event that there should be several such markets, on the basis of their last available closing prices on the main market for the relevant security.

In the event that the last available closing price does not, in the opinion of the Board of Directors of the SICAV, truly reflect the fair market value of the relevant securities, the value of such securities is defined by the Board of Directors of the SICAV based on the reasonably foreseeable sales proceeds determined prudently and in good faith.

Securities not listed or traded on a stock exchange or not dealt on another Regulated Market are valued on the basis of the probable sales proceeds determined prudently and in good faith by the Board of Directors of the SICAV.

The liquidating value of futures or options contracts not traded on exchanges or on other Regulated Markets (if applicable) shall mean their net liquidating value determined, pursuant to the policies established by the Board of Directors of the SICAV, on a basis consistently applied for each different variety of contracts.

The liquidating value of futures or options contracts traded on exchanges or on other Regulated Markets (if applicable) shall be based upon the last available settlement prices of these contracts on exchanges and regulated markets on which the particular futures or options contracts are traded by the Company; provided that if a futures or options contract could not be liquidated on the day with respect to which net assets are being determined, the basis for determining the liquidating value of such contract shall be such value as the Board of Directors of the SICAV may deem fair and reasonable.

The value of money market instruments not listed or dealt in on any stock exchange or any other Regulated Market are valued at their face value with interest accrued.

In case of short term instruments with remaining maturity of less than 90 days the value of the instrument based on the net asset acquisition cost is gradually adjusted to the repurchase price thereof. In the event of material changes in market conditions, the valuation basis of the investment is adjusted to the new market yields.

Interest rate swaps are valued at their market value established by reference to the applicable interest rates curve.

Investments in collective investment schemes are valued on the basis of the last available prices of the units or shares of such collective investment schemes.

All other transferable securities and other permitted assets are valued at fair market value as determined in good faith pursuant to procedures established by the Board of Directors of the SICAV.

VALUATION OF FORWARD FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTRACTS

Forward foreign exchange contracts are valued at the forward rate applicable at year-end for the remaining period until maturity and are included in the statement of net assets. Net realised result and change in unrealised appreciation and depreciation are included in the statement of operations and changes in net assets.

NET REALISED GAINS OR LOSSES RESULTING FROM INVESTMENTS

The realised gains or losses resulting from the sales of investments are calculated on an average cost basis.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE TRANSLATION

The accounts are maintained in US Dollar ("USD") and the financial statements are expressed in that currency.

The acquisition cost of securities purchased expressed in a currency other than the USD is translated in USD at the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the purchase.

Income and expenses expressed in other currencies than the USD are translated in USD at exchange rates ruling at the transaction date.

At year-end, investments, assets and liabilities expressed in other currencies than the USD are translated at exchange rates ruling at this date. The net realised gains and losses or net change in unrealised appreciations and depreciations on foreign exchange are recognised in the statement of operations and changes in net assets in determining the increase or decrease in net assets.

INCOME

Dividends are recorded at the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis.

TRANSACTION COSTS

The transaction costs include broker fees and fees charged by the custodian for securities and derivatives transactions. The broker fees are excluded from the cost of securities and derivatives purchased and sold. All these fees are recorded under caption "Broker and transaction fees".

8 DIVIDENDS

The Distribution Shares apply the corresponding Sub-Fund's dividend policy (see the relevant Data sheet under Part I) in distributing an annual percentage of the net asset value ("Fixed Dividend") which payment may be scheduled following predetermined frequencies.

The following are the single or double letter suffixes currently in use and which indicate a frequency:

"QD" for quarterly dividend,

"MD" for monthly dividend,

"D" for annual dividend.

The proportion of Fixed Dividend corresponding to a given frequency is as follows :

Frequency distribution	Proportion of Fixed Dividend	Example of a Fixed Dividend amounting 4%
MD - Monthly	1/12 (8.333%)	0.333%
QD - Quarterly	1/4 (25%)	1%
D - Annually	1/1 (100%)	4%

Fixed Dividend may result to have the dividend composed of capital attributable to the Shares, whose amount will be driven by the amount of existing investment incomes and capital gains.

Fixed Dividend will seek to pay out a dividend regardless of the performance of the Shares. As a result, the net asset value of such Shares may fluctuate more than the other Classes of Shares for which it is generally not intended by the Board of Directors to distribute capital, and the potential for future appreciation of such net asset value of such Shares may be eroded.

To each category of Distribution Shares corresponds a Fixed Dividend, with exception of the class OHE-QD that distributes an annual dividend as determined by the Board.

Distribution Shares proposing a monthly or quarterly payment declare interim dividends. Quarterly dividends will be distributed on the last Business Day of February, May, August and November of each financial year. Monthly dividends will be distributed on the last business day of each month.

The Board of Directors will propose to distribute dividends in the form of cash in the relevant Class Currency. The Board of Directors may also decide that dividends be reinvested by the attribution of additional Shares of the same Class and Category of Shares. Such Shares will be issued on the payment date at the NAV per Share of the relevant Class in noncertificated form. Fractional entitlements to registered Shares will be recognized to three decimal places.

Dividends remaining unclaimed five years after the dividend record date will be forfeited and will accrue for the benefit of the relevant Class of Shares of the relevant Sub-Fund.

The payment of dividend remains always subject to the minimum capital requirements to be respected by the Company in accordance with the 2010 Law.

What we have audited

The Fund's financial statements comprise:

- the securities portfolio as at 28 February 2022;
- the statement of net assets as at 28 February 2022;
- the statement of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 on the audit profession (Law of 23 July 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under the Law of 23 July 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our audit report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Fund for the financial statements

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's and each of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or close any of its sub-funds or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund;

- conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's or any of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our audit report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund or any of its sub-funds to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
